CHURCH LEADERS

Engaging ministry through an Internship

Are you a church leader wanting to embed training and growth into the life of your church? This course provides just that! We take care of the content and then require hands on application to take place in your local church, cross cultural, business or school context. This course is designed to be a great partner with churches and missions that are endeavouring to train and multiply. This qualification fits very well with a church or mission internship program.

Your people that are ready to step into training might include those in a gap year, or those involved in important lay ministry as deacons or elders in training, as small group leaders, or as evangelists and church planters involved, for example, in business as mission or youth ministry.

Who has God raised up in your church that are poised for such an opportunity? We are here to help.
